

Do you wonder if your child's talking and listening skills are right for their age?

Free communication check ups, performed by Speech Pathologists from your local Community Health Centre, are available at your playgroup or preschool.

Contact your centre for more information about session times.

